

Procurement Policy

Based on our basic philosophy that “quality chemicals begin with quality raw materials,” we at S&D will strengthen collaboration with our partners from a viewpoint of environmental conservation, prioritizing quality & delivery performance. In particular, we wish to develop broad-based relationships with suppliers capable of meeting S&D’s requirements in terms of QCDE (Quality, Cost, Delivery, Environment)

Our Procurement Policy is based on the following criteria:

Quality of products

When placing orders, our first consideration is the quality of the product. To verify this, we first obtain a sample and the COA from the supplier and the sample is tested at our laboratory to ensure the product is exactly as per our requirement.

Environment Protection

Environmental concerns cover all environmental impacts of products from cradle to grave including: reducing the amount of products purchased; minimizing energy, water and materials; recycled, recyclable, biodegradable and reusable components; minimal packaging, maintenance, waste, emissions, transportation; and environmentally responsible disposal.

Once we are satisfied with the product, the supplier is requested to submit to us their certificates conforming that the product conforms to the following standards:

- OEKO TEX Standard 100
- REACH/ SVHC
- ZDHC
- GOTS
- bluesign system

Updated certificates for all above standards are obtained from the suppliers on a yearly basis.

In addition, suppliers are requested to confirm compliance to the S&D MRS� to ensure the consistent global approach to reducing and/or eliminating hazardous substances.

Reliable Supply & Payment Terms

Great emphasis is placed on the reliability and capability of the supplier to ensure regular, uninterrupted supplies. Meeting the promised supply dates, quality of packing materials used and the efficiency of shipping is also considered.

In addition, payment terms are negotiated with our suppliers in order to maximize the financial benefits to the company thus passing those to our stakeholders.
